

WEB DEVELOPER

Web Developer

BACKGROUND

Web development is a job that is in high demand, whereas for this job includes designing, creating, and maintaining websites and web applications. It can also be interpreted that a web developer is associated with making a website. Most web development is hired by companies specialized in software development, IT, or computer consulting. A web developer's main job is to always create consistent and efficient web applications and services, as well as must be able to do multitasking work.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this training is to prepare qualified, competitive students, graduates, and those who need the knowledge and training to support their skills.

TARGET PARTICIPANTS

Students, lecturers, employees, and public in general.

GRADUATE COMPETENCIES

- Capable of analyzing tools.
- Capable of analyzing software scalability.
- Able to design user experience.
- Able to identify the required component library or framework.

- Able to implement structured programming.
- Able to implement object-oriented programming.
- Capable of Using SQL.
- Able to implement database access.
- Able to implement programming algorithm.
- Capable of migrating to new technologies.
- Able to do debugging.
- Able to apply multimedia programming.
- Able to apply code review.
- Able to carry out static testing of program code.
- Able to apply notification alerts if the application has problems.
- Capable of monitoring the resources used by the application.
- Able to perform software updates.

TRAINING AND CERTIFICATION

Web Development training and certification are conducted over a period of four (4) days. At the end of the training, participants who are considered competent will be given a certificate issued by LTC UPB. The certificate is recognized nationally and can be used as a proof of participants' competence in the field of Web Developer.

CONTACT US

E-mail: ltc@puterabatam.ac.id

Website: eli.upbatam.ac.id